

Jewish-Christian Relations

Insights and Issues in the ongoing Jewish-Christian Dialogue

In December 2004 The Centre for Catholic-Jewish Learning was established at King's University College at The University of Western Ontario in order to celebrate and further the renewal that was wrought in the relationship between the communities at The Second Vatican Council. At the time of its original inception, the Centre was tasked with the mandate of working toward the eventual establishment of a trilogue between all three Abrahamic faiths - Judaism, Christianity and Islam. On May 1, 2010 that mandate became a reality when The Centre for Jewish-Catholic-Muslim Learning was created by the will of College Council and the labours of many in the community that brought this dream to fruition.
